Kitchen remodels are on the rise. It is a great opportunity to flex creativity . What are this years suggested trends to stay ahead of the kitchen game?

I just updated my own kitchen.. out with the white cabinets and in with the wood! My home was built in 1921 and I adore all the quirks that come with it but being creative on space is always a challenge. Rather than hiding my pantry I made it a focal point by mixing pretty with functional. Taking the amazing reeded doors on the new pantry and continuing on the walls!

Is the enthusiasm for lacquer paint growing? Where / How do we best incorporate this?

I love lacquer. It's always a goal to mix different textures throughout the home, and lacquer is one of them to mix in with the flat, textures, wall papers and plaster!!

Have you ever designed an entire room around a single piece of art?

Absolutely ! Well not a single.. but a pair Artist: Teresa Roche (See image)

What was your biggest blunder?

I didn't measure the turn on stairwell wall for a sofa very well ,you can fix a wall, so we cut into it!!

Finish! Go the extra mile, put that beautiful last layer on. What does that mean to you?

Art, for sure.

Is the wallpaper trend going to continue?

Yes, the wallpaper trend is absolutely going to continue. Much like the “grand millennial” trend, it shows no signs of slowing down! Hand-painted wallpaper showcasing Florida’s lush palm leaves is the defining element in the “Reimagined Closet” I am creating for Kips Bay Palm Beach 2022. Wallpaper in the closet is such a powerful way to make a functional space feel fabulous and I forecast that as something we will continue to see more and more of. If you’re not ready for that, the powder room is the perfect place to have some fun with the wallpaper trend.
